2014 Meritage

Vintage

2014 was a rare growing year in Virginia - it was neither too hot nor too cold, neither too rainy nor too dry. This coincided with our main vineyard block finally coming of age! The resulting wines effortlessly expressed a purity of fruit with the strength and clarity of young vines.

Vineyard

The 2014 Meritage is all Estate fruit and is the first blend to showcase 100% Stinson Farms fruit. Vines are cane pruned and close spaced on the mineral rich red clay loam that is a signature of this part of Virginia.

Winemaker's Notes

Our heaviest Merlot blend to date exudes fresh red fruit flavors of plum, currant, and fig. Earthy tea leaf and savory black olive linger on the palate. Bright acidity and fine-grained tannins lend structure and balance. This is a wine that drinks well in its youth and will only benefit from bottle age.

Reviews

"This is an elegant and refined estate-bottled Meritage . . . It displays dark red fruit flavors with a silky attack and mouth feel. On the mid-palate it reveals good acidity with concentrated flavors, firm round tannins, and a persistent finish. Well done." - Mike Potashnik, International Wine Review

"A solid wine with a ripe, redcurrant nose, a medium to full body, then full, ripe tannins and a long, harmonious finish." - Stuart Pigott, JamesSuckling.com

"It definitely needs food - it is not a sweet, fruity little thing. This is nicely done. It should be able to age about ten years from vintage date, too, maybe more." - Mark Squires, Robert Parker's Wine Advocate

"The nose of this wine is bursting with raspberry, cranberry jam, violets and geranium. These notes carry to the palate, effortlessly melding together with a faint hint of tar. Soft cedar and nutmeg from 18 months in French oak offer complexity and a full structure. A smooth texture and well-integrated tannins make for a long and complex finish." - Carrie Dykes, Wine Enthusiast Magazine
